JCCPI Consulting Announces Acceptance as a CMMI Institute Partner

[3.19.14]—JCCPI Consulting today announced that it has been accepted as a Partner by the CMMI Institute. As a CMMI Institute Partner, JCCPI Consulting is certified to provide official CMMI Institute services in Capability Maturity Model Integration (CMMI).

“We are pleased to welcome JCCPI Consulting as a CMMI Institute Partner,” said Lisa Masciantonio, Director, Strategic Relationship Management, CMMI Institute. “As a provider of a world-class performance improvement framework that helps organizations achieve high-performance operations, JCCPI Consulting is among an elite group. CMMI Institute Partners are the only authorized external sources of official CMMI courses and services.”

JCCPI Consulting is dedicated to helping organizations achieve excellence through business improvement. We provide clients with proven methods for improving quality, increasing productivity, reducing cycle time and increasing performance.

The CMMI Institute—Powered by Carnegie Mellon

The CMMI Institute, based in Pittsburgh, is part of Carnegie Innovations, a technology commercialization enterprise and 100%-controlled subsidiary of Carnegie Mellon University. The Institute is dedicated to elevating organizational performance through best-in-class solutions to real-world challenges. It is the home of the Capability Maturity Model Integration (CMMI), a performance improvement framework that guides organizations in software and systems development, acquisition, and service delivery to create high-performance cultures.
